OUR Semi-Centennial Celebration is a thing of the past and with it the completion of the first twenty-five years of the choir.

I welcome this opportunity to express my appreciation of all that the choir has meant to the College in these twenty-five years. We are indebted to Miss Hazard not only for its beginning but for her continued interest which makes every new member realize that she is a part of an organization which has its roots in the past and looks to a future which depends upon her to uphold and perfect.

No member of the choir needs to be reminded of the debt she owes to Mr. Macdougall, to his training, of course, but also to his unfailing co-operation with everything that makes for the upbuilding of the finest elements in the College. In whatever task life presents to you do not forget to apply this lesson which our Choir Master has taught by his constant example.

The inspiration of that glorious music of Baccalaureate Vespers is an abiding joy. My congratulations to all those who shared it, both singers and hearers. This fine service of the past deserves and gives promise of greater achievement in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Ellen F. Pendleton.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
WELLESLEY COLLEGE
WELLESLEY, MASSACHUSETTS

June 23, 1925.

Dear Choir Members

IT seems impossible that five years have passed since we had the happiness of the Vigesimal Celebration, which rejoiced our hearts and renewed our loyalty. But this year it is not only the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Choir, but the semi-centennial of the College which we observe.

I have had the pleasure of meeting the Choir several times during the last five years, and have always tried to impress upon the students the dignity of their office, as the leaders of the College in offering praise, and calling to worship. Each member of the Choir becomes part of a perfect whole, giving utterance to aspiration and devotion, which without its beautiful interpretation would be inarticulate. More and more has the Choir taken a place in the College life which is recognized and appreciated.

The five years for me personally have been full years, marked at their conclusion by the publication of three books. In July 1924 a volume which I arranged and edited called South County Studies, by the late Esther Bernon Carpenter was printed. At Christmas time the same year my own Anchors of Tradition came from the Yale Press; and in March 1925 the Wellesley book From College Gates was published by Houghton Mifflin Co. In the third portion of this book "Within the Gates", members of the early Choirs will find addresses delivered at services in which they had an important part, as in the Commemoration of Sir Arthur Sullivan, and of Queen Victoria.

Long life to the Wellesley Choir, to every member of it, and to our Choir-Master, who for these twenty-five years has given the best that is in him to make it what it is! May it always keep its noble tradition and become more truly the steps to the very gate of heaven, a ladder on which the Angels of God may descend.

Faithfully yours,

Caroline Hazard.

Dear Choir People:

THE period 1920-1925 has been distinguished by a number of interesting services and by one or two changes in Choir administration. A "Pilgrim Fathers Commemorative Service" with the help of twelve men from the Appleton Chapel Harvard University Choir was held December 5, 1920. On December 12, with the assistance of flute, violin, and 'cello Christmas Vespers brought a varied programme; we were very glad to have Olive Nevin sing for us. On January 9, 1921, Loyal Phillips Shawe, the Chicago Baritone sang delightfully. Later in the month the Choir sang the anthem specially written for them by William Reed, of Quebec, "O pray for the peace of Jerusalem". No one of the choir who took part in the service at the First Church in Newton, Mass., February 20, 1920, will ever forget the blizzard which raged all the afternoon; the gentlemen of the First Church, however, were on hand with high-powered cars and we all came back home in time for evening service. The Vigesimal Music was used in the afternoon. Loyal Phillips Shaws sang for us again on March 13. One of the most exacting services we ever undertook was that in All Souls Church, Lowell, on April 16; excellent arrangements had been made by the Lowell people, but I shall never forget my consternation and chagrin on discovering that our music—my fault —had been left in Wellesley. However the telephone and the automobile played their parts and the service was only twenty minutes late in beginning.

In 1922 I had the first semester in England, Rose Phelps, '19 acting as organist and choirmaster; she also took over the management of the organ recitals given through the generosity of Mr. Edwin Farnham Greene, president of the board of trustees, and helped with the concert series. At Christmas Vespers the choir was assisted by a Brass Quartette, and there was singing of many carols edited or composed by Clarence Dickinson. February 15, 1924, twenty-three of the choir sang at the installation of the minister of the Unitarian Church in Framingham Centre; the Choir was taken out and brought back by the Framingham people. The Church people expressed themselves as delighted with the singing. Twice the Choir has officiated at memorial services in the Chapel: for Miss Charlotte Howard Conant and for Dr. Katharine Piatt Raymond.

The Choir has pursued the even tenor of its way, giving festival services at Christmas, Thankgivings and Easter, and enjoying the help of men from the Apollo Club, Boston, or from the choir of Appleton Chapel, Harvard University. When Easter is in term time we usually go about the College singing Easter Hymns accompanied by a Brass Quartette. On April 12, 1925, the Choir met in the chapel basement at 7 a. m. where McKechnie had provided hot coffee, buttered rolls, and doughnuts. We sung for Miss Pendleton at 7.30, and then marched to the Hill, Tower Court and Claflin, and the Quadrangle. The Quartette (Trumpet, two French Horns and a Trombone) played a short piece, this being followed by an Easter Carol by LeJeune. We think this Easter serenading is much appreciated by both choir and students.

The first real change in choir-administration took place in September, 1923, when a cut system was inaugurated; at first six cuts a semester were given, and this was, for 1924-25 extended to ten cuts. I do not feel at all sure that the system is a good one, but it ought to have a proper trial; another year will probably determine its usefulness. The Chorister, Assistant Chorister and I form the Choir governing committee. The form of the choir pledge is as follows:

Rehearsals:—Fridays, in the Chapel, from 7.20 to 7.50. (One point). Sunday, in Billings Hall, from 10.00 to 10.45. (One point).

Services:—Sunday, at 11.00. (One point). Sunday, at 7.30. (One point).

In each semester ten cuts are allowed. The Choir is under the control of the Chorister, Assistant Chorister, and Mr. Macdougall, who have power to dismiss any member who in any way contributes to the inefficiency of the Choir.

Purpose:—The Choir exists in order to give to the Chapel services music that shall be well chosen, well sung, and a source of inspiration to all who worship.

Advantages of Membership:—Singing with a carefully selected group the best sacred music. Increasing one's own musical culture. Being of use to one's College.

I have read the above and accept the conditions of membership.

Miss Pendleton and Miss Hazard have both been actively interested in the Choir, showing their interest in many ways; we have had every year jolly parties at Miss Pendleton's and at the Guest House; these are inspirational festivals giving us not only a feeling of solidarity, but also reassuring us of our important function as musical leaders in the chapel services. Some people find music quite as important as words in worship.

My affectionate regards go to every member of the Choir, past and present.

Hamilton C. Macdougall.

The Quinquennial Choir Book

AS we are ready to go to press, I want to thank all who have assisted in this Record by their prompt replies. It has been very interesting to read the letters as they have come in, and we are only sorry that, on account of the size of the book, we must cut out so much that is of interest.

Sincerely

Annie B. Stowe, 1902.

Secretary for the Quinquennial Choir Book.
